

GET A WRIST PET TO BE IN STYLE

Isabelle Wagoner introduces a new fad to "emphasize the fur season." She appeared in Los Angeles recently with a monkey on her arm. Hats and coats are heavily trimmed with fur this winter. Fur finishes all properly chic gowns in bands around the sleeves, the skirt and the belt. In New York kittens and bunnies have already become the rage as adornments. They are worn on the arm or shoulder and are as necessary for a complete toilette as a fur muff and collar.

KICKS ON MUTUAL CO. PUTTING UP TEN MILLION

Mrs. Olga Walsh, through her attorney, Frank S. Monnett, yesterday filed suit for an injunction in United States district court against the Mutual Life Insurance Co. to prevent them from subscribing $10,000,000 to the $500,000,000 war loan recently put through by the French-English financiers.

The loan is called "Illegal and a violation of our neutrality." Officers of the corporation are accused of "conspiring with the commission and assisting in the negotiation of illegal securities."
